COURSE INVITATION

Dear Colleagues,

The European Pediatric Surgeon's Association (EUPSA) has the pleasure to announce the 7th Central & Eastern European Course in Pediatric Surgery 2014 on the topic of "Pediatric Trauma Management" in Riga, Latvia.

Pediatric trauma is specialized field that involves close cooperation between experts that have specialized in the recognition of injuries and injury patterns and have been involved in the management of these patients. Injuries can affect any part of the body for which diagnostic examinations have to be specific and clear management protocols have to be implemented based on the severity of the trauma or injury.

The present course has been structured to provide an excellent overview from experts. The Course includes lecture sessions, video presentations as well time to interact with the faculty throughout the duration of the Course.

The trauma course has this year involves various aspects that are associated with pediatric injuries. Organ specific injuries and their management overview will provide comprehensive information on the treatment of these traumas. Diagnostics of trauma and initial management in a shock room will provide an initial overview on the treatment at the time of admission. Focus has also been paid towards the epidemiology of traumatic injuries in children along with injuries that are associated with sport activities in these age groups.

The Rigas Stradina University in Latvia is a prestigious institution of higher education, with a tradition of honor and offer facilities towards the advancement of sciences towards the local population.

The City of Riga and the old town will offer an excellent atmosphere for the course, social activities and cultural events during this time of the year.

The European Pediatric Surgeon's Association (EUPSA) and the local organization team of the Department of Pediatric Surgery, Rigas Stradina University under the organization of Prof. Aigars Petersons welcome you to Riga for the 7th Central & Eastern European Course in Pediatric Surgery!
